Information circular*

To: Staff members who are liable to pay income taxes to United States tax authorities on United Nations salaries and emoluments

From: The Controller

Subject: Payment of 2002 income taxes

Deadlines for submission of requests for reimbursement of 2002 taxes

Staff serving in the United States: 3 March 2003

Staff serving elsewhere: 1 April 2003

Please Note: Copies of tax returns must be received by the Payroll Section by the above dates. If you mail your returns to the United Nations, please allow for a three-week delivery delay due to additional security inspections required for postal deliveries to the United Nations. Alternatively, mail them via special courier (e.g., DHL, FedEx, UPS) to the Payroll Section at the address indicated below.

In person or by phone:

1 to 15 April 2003: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

At all other times: 3 to 5 p.m.

* Expiration date of the present circular: 31 December 2004.

Note

The present circular contains important information about the reimbursement of income taxes by the United Nations. Read it carefully and be sure that anybody who assists you in the preparation of your tax returns reads it also. You will be required to certify as to the accuracy of certain statements made in your request for reimbursement and to give consent to the Organization to obtain certain verifications directly from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). This is explained fully in paragraphs 5 to 9 below. Please note in particular paragraph 8, which defines your responsibility for informing the Organization of any change in your tax liability or filing of amended tax returns for any reason.

Tax advice and tax forms. Staff members who need detailed tax advice and/or tax forms should refer to paragraphs 23 to 25 for further information and a listing of addresses, telephone numbers and Internet sites for IRS and state tax help services.

Staff members of dual nationality. A staff member's registered nationality and/or resident status with the United Nations determines his or her eligibility for reimbursement of income taxes. Staff members who are nationals and permanent residents of the United States of America must register as such to be eligible for reimbursement of United States income taxes on United Nations earnings.

Signing the waiver. According to the United States Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, staff members who are or who become permanent residents of the United States must sign the Waiver of Rights, Privileges, Exemptions and Immunities within 10 days of receiving notification of admission for permanent residence or effective date of employment with the United Nations.

Minimizing of tax. You are required to make maximum use of all adjustments to income, deductions and exemptions available to you and to certify to this effect (see paras. 12-15).

Cheques made payable to tax authorities. Cheques for reimbursement of taxes or for tax advances will normally be made payable to a tax authority. They must be transmitted to the appropriate tax authorities or returned to the Payroll Section. These cheques made payable to tax authorities must never, under any circumstances, be deposited into a personal account.

Staff members due large refunds from tax authorities. Large refunds are often due to overpayment of tax advances by the United Nations. Please refer to paragraphs 46 to 48 for an explanation as to how any excess reimbursements for 2002 will be handled.

Taxpaying staff members stationed outside the United States. Those assigned to a United Nations office or mission outside the United States during 2001 or 2002 or 2003 should give particular attention to the information contained in paragraphs 66 to 88.

New source for income tax information. Income tax information specific to the needs of United States taxpayers working for the United Nations is available through the Intranet to personnel stationed in New York at <http://www3.un.org/Accounts/tax>. Personnel at Headquarters with access to the United Nations Intranet site are encouraged to explore this alternative.

Acknowledgement of receipt of revised and/or amended returns. Staff members who file revised and/or amended returns with the tax authorities must submit copies to the Tax Unit. They will receive an acknowledgement of receipt of such revised and/or amended returns within one month. If staff members do not receive such acknowledgement within the prescribed time, they should contact the Tax Unit.

Most frequently asked questions on income taxes. Answers to the most frequently asked questions on income taxes in the United Nations are included as an annex to the present circular. Please note, however, that the information in the annex is not exhaustive and therefore should not be used in lieu of this information circular.

	The most frequently asked questions on income taxes in the United Nations		37

Introduction

1. A staff member who is a United States citizen or a permanent resident (“green card” holder) who has signed the Waiver of Rights, Privileges, Exemptions and Immunities (the Waiver) is subject to income taxation by the United States on his or her earnings from the United Nations (see ST/AI/1998/1 dated 28 January 1998). The main criterion of determination by the United Nations of entitlement to reimbursement of income taxes is the staff member’s registered nationality and/or resident status with the United Nations, in compliance with staff rule 104.8 (a), which provides that “in the application of Staff Regulations and Staff Rules, the United Nations shall not recognize more than one nationality for each staff member”. According to the United States Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, the Waiver should be signed within 10 days of receiving notification of admission for permanent residence or joining the Organization. It is the staff member’s personal responsibility to ascertain and meet his or her legal obligations, if any, arising under United States federal, state and municipal income tax laws.

2. A staff member who is liable for such taxes for 2002 and/or 2003 and who wishes to claim reimbursement from the United Nations may apply for reimbursement of such taxes in accordance with the procedures set out in the present circular.

I. United Nations policies on income tax reimbursement

A. Rationale for reimbursement of taxes levied on United Nations income

3. Most Member States, by acceding to section 18 (b) of the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, have exempted United Nations staff members from national taxation of their official emoluments. A few Member States have not done so and staff members from those Member States may thus be required to pay taxes on their United Nations income. In the interest of equity, the General Assembly established a system to reimburse income taxes to those United Nations staff members who are required to pay taxes in respect of salaries or other emoluments they receive from the United Nations.

4. The purpose of the reimbursement system is to place United Nations staff members subject to taxation in the position they would have if their official emoluments were not taxed. Hence, it is intended neither to provide a benefit, nor to place the staff member at a disadvantage, in relation to other United Nations staff members who are not required to pay taxes to a Member State on their United Nations emoluments. United Nations staff regulation 3.3 (f) (i) stipulates that in no case shall the reimbursement by the United Nations exceed the final income taxes actually paid and payable in respect of a staff member’s United Nations income.

B. Requirements for applications for reimbursement or for advances to pay estimated taxes

5. Staff members must submit to the Payroll Section, room FF-300, the following:

- (a) For reimbursement of 2002 federal, state or municipal taxes:
 - (i) A request for settlement of income taxes (United Nations form F.65 plus form F.65/A, if applicable);
 - (ii) A consent for IRS to disclose certain tax return information to the United Nations (United Nations form F.243);
 - (iii) True, complete and signed copies of the relevant income tax returns and supporting information for the tax year for which reimbursement is requested.

For reimbursement of taxes for states other than New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Washington, D.C., Maryland and Virginia, or for municipal authorities other than New York City or Yonkers, the tax rates and relevant instructions issued by the tax authority must be attached to the application.

- (b) For advances to pay 2003 estimated taxes:

A request for settlement of income taxes (United Nations form F.65 plus form F.65/A, if applicable).

6. Incomplete applications, that is, forms that are not fully completed, signed and dated, and, in the case of requests for reimbursement of income taxes, that are not complete, signed copy/copies of income tax return(s), will not be processed and will be returned to the staff member with a notice of correction. The Organization will not accept any responsibility for delays in processing any incomplete application for reimbursement of income taxes.

7. All applicable spaces on form F.65 must be filled in completely. The Payroll Section relies on current information, such as home address, office location and telephone extension, in order to facilitate communication with staff members. A staff member's home address on form F.65 should be the same as the home address indicated on the 2002 IRS form 1040 filed, unless it is certain that the staff member is more easily reached at another mailing address.

8. In signing form F.65, staff members certify and undertake very specific obligations as a condition of receiving reimbursements or advances. Staff members authorize the United Nations to make federal tax advance deposits on their behalf. Staff members certify that copies of tax returns submitted are identical to the returns filed with the tax authorities. Staff members agree specifically, inter alia, to notify the United Nations within 30 days of: (a) any amended returns filed with the tax authorities subsequent to the copies submitted to the United Nations; and (b) any change in the staff member's tax liability, whether that change takes place before or after the return is filed, whether or not that change pertains to the staff member's United Nations income, and whether or not a joint return is filed. Because changes in income from non-United Nations sources or changes in deductions are likely to affect the amount of the United Nations reimbursement, any kind of change in tax liability must be reported to the United Nations. Failure to adhere to these obligations may result in: (a) suspension of issuance of further tax reimbursement cheques; (b) recovery of amounts already advanced and/or paid; and (c) possible disciplinary action.

9. In completing and signing form F.243, a staff member consents to authorize IRS to disclose certain tax information to the United Nations for verifying actual income taxes paid to the United States. This consent may be revoked within 75 days of signature. However, if consent is revoked, the staff member must immediately repay to the United Nations the entire amount of any tax reimbursements and advances for all the tax years to which the revocation applies. If repayment of any tax reimbursements and advances is not made promptly, these amounts may be deducted, pursuant to staff rule 103.18, from future payments by the Organization of salaries and other emoluments including separation entitlements, and disciplinary action may also be taken as appropriate. Normally the completion of one form F.243 at the time of application for reimbursement will be sufficient for the whole year. However, staff members may be required to complete and sign another form F.243 at any time during the year if the original F.243 is not acceptable by the IRS.

10. Form F.243 must be filed with no changes or alterations except as specified in the directions at the bottom of the form, and must be submitted with an original signature. Faxed copies of completed form F.243 are not acceptable because they do not have an original signature. The use of "white-out" or any subsequent corrections to form F.243 are not permitted. Form F.243 must be completed in ink and should not be completed in pencil. Any changes to form F.243 will result in delays in the processing of claims. Please adhere to the standard American dating convention of month/day/year and not the normal United Nations date format when completing form F.243. Reimbursement requests with a form F.243 in which the dating is ambiguous will be returned. If you are filing a joint return, your spouse's Social Security number must be on form F.243, whether your spouse is a staff member or not.

11. In cases where a staff member has filed a claim for reimbursement of income taxes that must be returned by the Payroll Section because of an error or some other deficiency, the staff member will receive a notice of correction. If the staff member fails to respond to the notice of correction in a timely manner, there may be substantial delays in processing the reimbursement request, for which the United Nations will not accept any responsibility.

C. Obligation to minimize tax liability

12. In order to minimize the burden on the Tax Equalization Fund, of which the Secretary-General is the trustee, and on voluntary funds from which tax reimbursements may be made, a staff member claiming reimbursement is required to make maximum use of all adjustments to income, deductions and exemptions in order to minimize his or her tax liability. In claiming a reimbursement from the United Nations, a staff member, inter alia, certifies and agrees on the Request for Settlement of Income Taxes (form F.65) that he or she will minimize his or her taxes. Only those deductions that can be subtracted from employment income may be applied against United Nations taxable earnings.

13. For married staff members, the filing of joint tax returns in most cases results in a lower tax liability both for the staff member and for the United Nations. Staff members who receive a dependency allowance from the United Nations for their spouse must file jointly. If (a) tax return(s) with filing status other than married filing jointly is/are submitted by a staff member in receipt of dependency allowance for a spouse, the final reimbursement of income taxes will be calculated using the greater of the standard deduction for married filing jointly for the tax year in question or the actual amount of the itemized deduction claimed. The married-filing-jointly tax rate will be used to calculate the taxes due. Filing of joint federal returns by citizens and resident aliens with spouses who are non-resident aliens is permitted. New York State income tax laws require that taxpayers who file joint federal returns must, with very few exceptions, file joint New York State returns.

14. Staff members are required to itemize deductions if these would exceed the standard deductions allowable. Staff members should refer to the specific instructions issued by the tax authorities for items of deductions allowed. If a staff member does not itemize deductions and it is determined by the United Nations that itemizing deductions would result in a lower tax, the tax returns will be returned to the staff member as incomplete, and he or she will be required to resubmit the returns with an itemized deduction schedule.

15. Staff members who have received United Nations dependency allowances for their relatives residing in the United States are required to claim the appropriate exemptions for the dependants, or provide an acceptable written explanation as to the reason for not doing so. Staff members who received dependency allowances for secondary dependants must claim the exemptions or provide an acceptable written explanation as to the reason for not doing so.

D. Issuance of tax cheques by the United Nations

16. Cheques issued as the final settlement or advances for federal or state or municipal income tax liabilities attributable to United Nations earnings are made payable to the income tax authority. The staff member must forward any such cheques immediately to the appropriate tax authority. Cheques payable to a tax authority must never, under any circumstances, be deposited into a personal account.

17. Failure to forward cheques made payable to the tax authorities promptly to the appropriate tax authorities may result in the suspension of the issuance of future tax cheques. Depositing a cheque made payable to a tax authority into a personal account may result in the suspension of the issuance of future tax cheques, recovery of amounts already advanced and/or paid, and possible disciplinary action.

18. An exception to the United Nations procedure of issuing cheques payable to the tax authorities will be made only if the staff member provides proof that full payment of income taxes has already been made at the time the claim is submitted. Proof of payment means copies of both sides of cancelled cheques made payable to the tax authorities or certified transcripts of taxpayer accounts. When a staff member provides such proof of prior payment at the time of submission of his or her claim, a cheque payable to the staff member will be issued. Any claims for reimbursement of income taxes that request a cheque made payable to the staff member but do not provide acceptable proof of payment will not be honoured.

19. The tax authorities require each taxpayer to enter his or her Social Security number on each cheque so that the tax authority can credit the cheque to the proper account. Staff members should verify that the Social Security number printed on the face of each tax cheque is correct. Married staff members should always write their own Social Security number on any cheque issued by the United Nations and not the Social Security number of their spouse. Staff members are urged to keep a record of the number of each tax cheque received from the United Nations. Copies of cancelled cheques can be obtained by providing the United Nations with the actual cheque numbers together with an acceptable justification for the request.

20. Tax cheques are generally issued approximately two weeks before the estimated tax payment and annual tax filing due dates. Staff members who expect to be on official travel or leave on the date that tax cheques are expected to be issued should make prior arrangements with their executive officers, so that they can send their cheques to the appropriate tax authorities before the due date. It is not possible for the Payroll Section to accommodate requests for early issuance of cheques.

E. Limitation on retroactivity of claims for reimbursement of taxes

21. The reimbursement of income taxes shall be deemed to be claimable by staff members on the last date on which their return for a particular year must be filed with the tax authority, without any extension of time for filing other than the automatic extension for staff serving abroad. In accordance with staff rule 103.15, no claims for reimbursement of taxes will be entertained beyond one year after that date, unless the United Nations accepts that there are extenuating circumstances. In such cases, a staff member may request that the time limit in staff rule 103.15 be waived, and support such a request with a written explanation for the delay. Staff members will be required to submit sufficient documentary proof of the actual tax returns filed with the respective tax authorities.

F. Policy regarding interest and penalties imposed by tax authorities

22. As the responsibility for filing complete, correct and timely tax returns and estimated tax payments with any amounts due is that of the individual taxpayer, the United Nations will not reimburse staff members for interest or penalties imposed by tax authorities on their United Nations earnings. There are three exceptions to this rule. The United Nations may reimburse late-payment and/or underpayment interest and penalty charges which arise from: (a) delays or incorrect written instructions or incorrect earnings data which are acknowledged by the United Nations as being the responsibility of the Organization; (b) extensions for staff members serving the United Nations outside the United States; or (c) underpayment of tax advances by the United Nations under the provisions of paragraph 53 (c), (d) and (e) below. The United Nations will not pay any late filing penalties under any circumstances.

G. Income tax assistance, inquiries and forms

23. Neither the United Nations nor the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund can (a) provide advice or assistance to staff members on tax matters other than in relation to the treatment of United Nations earnings, and (b) communicate directly with tax authorities on a staff member's behalf. Under the provisions of staff regulation 1.6, staff members are not permitted to provide assistance in income tax matters to other staff members for remuneration without the prior approval of the Secretary-General. Should advice on non-United Nations-related aspects of income tax returns be needed, staff members should consult the appropriate income tax authorities or tax preparation services. Staff members may wish to obtain a free copy of publication 17, entitled "Your Federal Income Tax (For Individuals)", which is issued annually by IRS. Staff members serving outside the United States may wish to obtain a free copy of IRS publication 54, entitled "Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad". Specific information on all general tax matters may be obtained by calling the telephone numbers or accessing the Internet sites listed below:

24. In order to allow the Payroll Section adequate time to complete the processing of tax reimbursements, inquiries will be received by the Payroll Section from 3 to 5 p.m. The Payroll Section will be open for inquiries from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. from 1 to 15 April 2003. Inquiries may be made by telephone ((212) 963-2949), fax ((212) 963-1544), Lotus Notes Mail (Tax, Unit), Internet mail (tax@un.org), Intranet at <http://www3.un.org/Accounts/tax> (for staff at Headquarters with access to the Intranet) or in person in room FF-300. Staff members outside the United States who need more information or assistance may contact the Payroll Section at any time by telephone, fax, and letter or through the Internet.

25. Most forms required for filing federal and state returns are available from libraries, post offices and specialized government Internet sites. The Payroll Section will attempt to maintain a limited supply of a few basic forms outside room FF-300. These will be available to staff members on a first-come, first-served basis. However, most tax forms will have to be obtained directly from the appropriate tax authorities. Tax forms may be ordered by calling the telephone numbers or accessing the Internet sites listed below:

Income tax forms from government Internet sites are available in file formats that require special software to be read and printed. File readers are generally available free of charge from many income tax Internet sites.

II. Procedures for reimbursement of federal, state and municipal income taxes for calendar year 2002

A. Computation of the reimbursement

26. The method of computing the federal, state and municipal taxes payable on United Nations earnings and, thus, the amount that the United Nations will reimburse to a staff member is as follows: The tax attributable to United Nations salary and emoluments is considered to be the difference between: (a) the total tax payable for the year as shown in the copies of the tax return submitted by the staff member with the United Nations income (as shown on the statement of taxable earnings) included, and (b) the tax that would be payable if United Nations income were excluded from total income. The taxable amount of pension withdrawal settlement shown on the statement of taxable earnings for staff members who joined the Organization after 31 December 1979 will be treated as non-United Nations income in accordance with General Assembly resolution 34/165 of 17 December 1979 (see para. 94 below).

27. Both calculations (a) and (b) in paragraph 26 above use the actual total deduction and the actual deduction for exemptions claimed by the staff member on his or her tax return(s) to arrive at the taxable income. Effective with the 2002 tax reimbursement, the limitation of deductions or the deduction for exemptions that results from including United Nations earnings in adjusted gross income is taken into consideration for the calculation of reimbursement of regular income tax or alternative minimum tax. The adjustment to income for one half of the self-employment tax (see para. 63 below) is considered to be an adjustment to United Nations income to the extent that this self-employment tax is attributable to United Nations income. All tax credits available, such as the earned income credit, the child and dependant care credit, the elderly and disabled credit, the foreign tax credit, New York City school tax credit and various state homestead tax credits are applied to reduce the total income tax liability and do not affect either calculation.

B. Statement of taxable earnings

28. Each staff member on the Headquarters payroll who is subject to United States taxes will receive a detailed statement of his or her United Nations taxable earnings for 2002 on the United Nations form entitled "Statement of taxable earnings". The statements will be issued before 31 January 2003.

29. A staff member who is required to file a United States federal income tax return and who was payrolled at any time in 2002 by the Economic Commission for Africa, the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean, the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, the Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia, the United Nations Office at Nairobi, the United Nations Office at Geneva, the United Nations Office at Vienna, the United Nations University, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East or the International Tribunals in The Hague, Arusha or Kigali should receive a statement of his or her United Nations taxable earnings directly from the finance office at that location. Statements of taxable earnings issued by finance offices away from Headquarters will usually be issued sometime after 31 January 2003. Staff members who were on the payrolls of more than one office during 2002 should receive a separate statement of taxable earnings from each office. Their total United Nations taxable income is the sum total from all such statements.

30. Staff members will note that at the bottom of the statement of taxable earnings there is a paragraph which explains that, since remuneration from an international organization is not subject to withholding, the United Nations is exempt from issuing a Wage and Tax Statement, IRS form W-2, per se. While it is not a requirement of IRS or state/local tax authorities, staff members may wish to attach a copy of the United Nations statement of taxable earnings to the income tax returns that they file with the appropriate tax authorities. A copy of the statement(s) of taxable earnings must be attached to the copy of the returns included with the request for reimbursement of taxes.

31. The following types of payments made by the United Nations to staff members during the calendar year 2002 are included in the statement of taxable earnings for 2002:

- (a) Gross salary (before the deduction of staff assessment);
- (b) Overtime and night differential;
- (c) Post adjustment;

- (d) Dependency allowance;
- (e) Mobility and hardship allowance (including hazard pay, where applicable);
- (f) Representation allowance;
- (g) Education grant;
- (h) Assignment grant;
- (i) Travel on appointment and/or separation;
- (j) Removal of household effects;
- (k) Home leave travel;
- (l) Rental subsidy.

The taxable portion of a partial or full distribution received from the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund (see paras. 91-94 below), along with any other taxable separation payments, such as accrued annual leave, repatriation grant or termination indemnity, will also be included in the statement. However, the taxable amount of the pension distribution is not considered as United Nations income eligible for tax reimbursement for those staff members who joined the Organization after 31 December 1979. United Nations daily subsistence allowance (DSA) and mission subsistence allowance (MSA) are not taxable earnings.

32. The total of all types of payments shown on the statement of taxable earnings is the amount that will be reported directly by the United Nations to the United States Internal Revenue Service and is the amount that should be reflected on the staff member's income tax returns. Every possible effort will be made to ensure that all taxable income items have been included in the statement of taxable earnings. However, even if some items have been omitted, it remains the responsibility of the staff member to include all taxable items on his or her tax return and to inform the Headquarters Payroll Section and the finance office issuing the statement of taxable earnings of the amount and date received of any item omitted from the statement of taxable earnings.

33. United Nations emoluments are considered wages or earnings from employment and they must be reported as such on line 7 of IRS form 1040, "Wages, salaries, tips, etc.". United Nations earnings are not business income and should not be reported on IRS schedule C. Any claims for reimbursement using schedule C to report United Nations earnings subject to income taxes will be returned to the staff member for correction.

C. Social Security numbers or individual taxpayer identification numbers (ITINs)

34. The United States Internal Revenue Service, in connection with the operation of its automatic data-processing program, requires that taxpayers indicate their Social Security number or ITIN on their tax returns for use as a taxpayer account number. Under the Internal Revenue Code, a penalty may be imposed for failure to supply an account or identification number, unless the taxpayer can show that the failure was attributable to reasonable causes.

35. Staff members who are liable to pay United States federal income tax should obtain a Social Security number or an ITIN, even if they are not United States citizens or if their United Nations earnings are not otherwise subject to Social Security coverage. Staff members should file form SS-5 for a Social Security number or form W-7 for an ITIN. If a number has been applied for but not received by the due date for filing, the staff member should ask for an extension of time to file. A missing or incorrect Social Security number or ITIN may result in the tax authority applying stringent penalties. Therefore, staff members are urged to apply for and to provide the Internal Revenue Service with their Social Security number or ITIN.

D. Office to which settlement claims are to be submitted

36. All staff members (except those who are or were payrolled by UNRWA) requesting reimbursement of income taxes for the calendar year 2002 should submit their completed applications to the Payroll Section of the Office of Programme Planning, Budget and Accounts, room FF-300, United Nations Headquarters, New York, NY 10017. UNRWA staff members should submit their applications for reimbursement to the UNRWA finance office.

E. Deadline for submission of settlement claims for 2002

37. All staff members serving in the United States should submit their completed applications for reimbursement as soon as possible but not later than 3 March 2003. As discussed in paragraphs 68 and 69 below, for staff members serving outside the United States on or after 1 February 2003, the deadline for submission of applications for reimbursement is 1 April 2003.

38. A staff member serving in the United States who submits a claim for reimbursement of 2002 income taxes on or before 3 March 2003 may anticipate that the claim will be reimbursed in advance of the 15 April 2003 filing deadline, provided the claim is complete and the Payroll Section finds no problems that may delay or prevent its timely processing. Similarly, a staff member serving outside the United States who submits a complete and processable (see paras. 5 and 6 above) claim for reimbursement of 2002 income taxes before 1 April 2003 may anticipate that the claim will be reimbursed in advance of the 16 June 2003 overseas filing deadline with the two-month automatic extension. The lead time provided by the submission deadlines gives the Payroll Section sufficient time to process and pay all timely filed claims for reimbursement of income taxes in advance of filing deadlines. Staff members who submit their claims for reimbursement of 2002 income taxes after the United Nations submission deadlines are not assured that their claims will be reimbursed by their applicable income tax filing deadlines.

39. All staff members who received advances to pay estimated taxes for the tax year 2002 must submit a copy of their final tax returns for 2002, together with form F.65 (Request for Settlement of Income Taxes) and form F.243 to the Payroll Section. If a staff member does not submit these by 15 September 2003, any tax advance payments which have been made to him or her may be recovered from his or her salary starting the following month.

F. Incomplete or incorrect applications

40. The elements of a complete application for reimbursement of taxes are set out in paragraphs 5 and 6 above. An incomplete application will not be considered a valid request and will be returned to the applicant. In such cases, the date of submission will be deemed to be the date of receipt of the corrected, complete return. The United Nations will not accept responsibility for the consequences arising from any delays in processing attributable to incomplete claims.

41. In recent years, the use of computerized tax preparation packages has become widespread, and some of them include the electronic filing of tax returns with the tax authorities. The paper copies of tax returns generated from computer software can be accepted by the Payroll Section as the required copy of a staff member's return only if there is a fully printed description for each line number of the tax return comparable to the line descriptions on federal and state returns. Computerized tax return forms that contain only line numbers and amounts are not acceptable. Federal income tax returns must be prepared using IRS form 1040, and New York State resident returns must be prepared using New York State Department of Taxation and Finance form IT-201.

42. If the Payroll Section determines, in the course of processing a request for reimbursement, that an error has been made in a staff member's tax return(s), it will issue to the staff member a written notice of correction to be made to the tax return(s). Staff members should not, however, rely on the Payroll Section to detect errors. They remain fully responsible for filing correct returns with the tax authorities. Staff members who receive notices of correction are required to certify that they have made the necessary changes to their tax returns and have submitted the corrected returns to the tax authorities. They must return the notice of correction to the Payroll Section along with a copy of the corrected return(s) which they certify have been sent to the tax authorities. The United Nations will not be responsible for any delays in the issuance of tax cheques because of the requirement for returning the notice of correction with a copy of the corrected return(s) to the Payroll Section.

43. In instances when staff members have already filed their returns with the tax authorities before the receipt of a notice of correction from the Payroll Section, they must submit appropriate amended returns to the tax authorities and submit a copy of the amended return(s) to the Payroll Section.

G. Issuance of final 2002 tax payment cheques

44. Final tax reimbursement cheques will be issued before the 15 April 2003 deadline to all staff members who submit complete claims for reimbursement of 2002 income taxes on time by the deadline of 3 March 2003. Final tax reimbursement cheques for all overseas staff members who submit complete claims for reimbursement of 2002 income taxes by the deadline of 1 April 2003 will be issued before the 16 June 2003 deadline. Staff members whose advances to pay estimated taxes for 2002 exceeded their entitlements to tax reimbursement for 2002 for both federal and state returns will receive no reimbursement cheques. Staff members whose advances to pay estimated taxes for 2002 were less than their entitlement to tax reimbursement for 2002 will receive either one or two reimbursement cheques for each return.

45. When two reimbursement cheques are received for a particular tax return, one of the cheques will be a cheque made payable to the tax authority and the other cheque will be a cheque made payable to the staff member. The staff member must forward any cheques made payable to the tax authority to the appropriate tax authority. These cheques made payable to a tax authority must never, under any circumstances, be deposited into a personal account.

H. Overpayment of tax advances

46. If a staff member has received advances to pay estimated taxes for 2002 from the United Nations which exceed his or her entitlement to reimbursement for the United Nations share of the total tax liability for 2002, the amount of excess reimbursement for 2002 will normally be considered by the United Nations to be estimated tax payments for 2003. The total amount of new advance payments made for 2003 estimated taxes will be reduced accordingly. Such excess amounts are indicated on the transmittal statement accompanying 2002 reimbursement cheques and/or 2003 advance cheques. Any such excess payments for 2002 will be deducted from the first-quarter tax advance cheque for 2003 and, if necessary, from subsequent quarterly tax advance cheques.

47. In such cases, staff members should be aware that they may incur penalties and interest if the total amount of estimated tax payments for 2003 are significantly underpaid as a result of the reduction in the 2003 advance cheques issued by the United Nations. Staff members will need either to designate on their 2002 tax returns a portion of any 2002 overpayment(s) as an estimated payment for 2003 and/or to make additional estimated tax payments for 2003 directly. Staff members paying self-employment taxes on United Nations earnings should pay particular attention to the effect of any United Nations overpayment of 2002 federal estimated taxes on payments credited to their 2003 federal taxpayer account.

48. In certain instances, United Nations advances received to pay estimated taxes for 2002 may have greatly exceeded the staff member's total taxes due and the staff member is eligible for an unusually large refund from the tax authority. Overpayments of 2002 estimated taxes in excess of twice the amount of 2002 income taxes due on United Nations earnings are considered to be unusually large refunds. In these instances, most or all of the potential refund is due to and payable to the United Nations, and this excess payment for 2002 by the United Nations cannot be recovered in a reasonable time by the normal method of reducing the staff member's 2003 tax advances. In such circumstances, the staff member must request a full refund on his or her 2002 tax return, endorse the refund cheque to the United Nations when it is received and return it to the Payroll Section. The Payroll Section will then issue another cheque made payable to the staff member for whatever portion of the total 2002 refund was not due to the United Nations. Any such unusually large refunds from a tax authority, which are attributable to a significant overpayment of tax advances by the United Nations and which are not returned to the Payroll Section within 90 days of the required filing date of the tax return, will be subject to immediate recovery from salary or final separation payments. A staff member who is uncertain whether a large refund from a tax authority must be treated in this fashion should consult with the Payroll Section.

I. Timely filing of tax returns

49. Whether or not United Nations final reimbursement cheques are received by the filing deadline of 15 April 2003, staff members must file their returns on time with the appropriate tax authorities unless they have filed a request for an extension to file. Staff members serving outside the United States have an automatic two-month extension and must file their federal income tax returns by 16 June 2003 or apply for an extension. This will avoid the substantial penalties for failure to file the tax return within the time prescribed by law. If the tax return is filed without full payment, IRS and other tax authorities will levy a charge for the failure to pay the tax or portion thereof when due. Staff members may wish to refer to IRS notice 433 for further information about notice, penalties and interest. The United Nations will not pay any late filing penalties under any circumstances. In this connection, the staff member is responsible for his or her share of the tax due and any interest and penalty related thereto. If, despite full compliance by the staff member with the procedures set out in the present circular, the United Nations cheques were not received in a timely fashion, a claim for reimbursement of any late payment interest and penalties levied will be considered in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 22 above.

III. Advances for estimated federal, New York, Washington, D.C., Virginia or Maryland and New York City or Yonkers income taxes for calendar year 2003

50. A staff member who will be liable to pay federal, state or municipal income taxes for 2003 is required to file, by 15 April 2003, a declaration of estimated tax on his or her estimated 2003 income, including salary and emoluments to be received from the United Nations. Instructions regarding the filing of the declaration of estimated income tax, showing how and when payments are to be made, can be found on IRS tax form 1040-ES, New York tax form IT-2105, New Jersey tax form NJ-1040ES, and Connecticut form CT-1040ES.

51. Staff members should be aware that, in order to avoid the penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes for 2003, in most circumstances they will be required to pay in equal quarterly instalments as estimates of their 2003 federal tax the lesser of: (a) 100 per cent of their actual 2002 tax liability (including the self-employment tax); or (b) 90 per cent of their estimated 2003 tax liability (including the self-employment tax).

52. It is the responsibility of staff members to include on their estimated tax forms, estimates of additional taxable income from sources other than the United Nations and to pay the estimated tax due thereon, including their share of self-employment tax (Social Security contributions).

53. The United Nations assists staff members in meeting their estimated tax obligations on United Nations income by issuing quarterly tax advances to staff members on request and under the conditions prescribed below:

(a) A request for the issuance of advances to pay 2003 estimated income taxes is made by completing the appropriate section of form F.65 (Request for Settlement of Income Taxes), normally completed at the same time as the request for the 2002 final tax reimbursements;

(b) No advances will be issued to pay 2003 estimated income taxes to any staff member who has received advances to pay 2002 estimated income taxes but whose 2002 tax reimbursement has not been settled;

(c) No advances will be issued to staff members who are working under an initial appointment contract with the United Nations which is less than six months. The United Nations will be prepared to reimburse any penalty incurred by staff members related to underpayment of estimated taxes on such United Nations income;

(d) Staff members who have separated from the United Nations will receive no additional advances. In some instances, retiring staff members who joined the Organization before 1 January 1980 will receive taxable lump-sum pension payments or other taxable distributions that will require additional estimated payments to be made to tax authorities. The United Nations will not issue tax advances for these distributions but will be prepared to reimburse any penalty incurred by the staff members related to the reimbursable portion of the United Nations payments;

(e) Advances may be reduced or eliminated for staff members on mission or assignment outside the United States who are likely to qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion discussed in paragraphs 70 to 76 below. The United Nations will reimburse any resulting penalty incurred by the staff members related to underpayment of estimated taxes on United Nations income that resulted from such reduction or elimination of tax advances by the United Nations;

(f) The amounts of the estimated tax advances issued by the United Nations will be determined by the Payroll Section. They will normally be based either on earnings received from the United Nations in 2003 or on the amount of taxes paid on United Nations income for the full year 2002 plus the United Nations portion of the Social Security (self-employment) taxes expected to be paid for 2003, if any;

(g) All tax advances issued during 2003 will be applied against the amount calculated as reimbursable by the United Nations for the year 2003.

54. Estimated taxes are payable to the tax authorities in four quarterly instalments due on 15 April 2003, 16 June 2003, 15 September 2003 and 15 January 2004. Advances for the first quarterly instalment of the 2003 taxes will be issued before the 15 April 2003 due date, and those for subsequent quarterly payments will be issued before the above-mentioned due dates.

55. For most staff members paying taxes to the United States, federal tax advances are deposited directly with IRS for credit to the staff member's individual accounts as estimated payments received. Staff members who have not filed their requests for 2003 advances with the Payroll Section by the Headquarters deadline of 3 March 2003 may receive their first advance for estimated federal taxes for 2003 by cheque rather than direct deposit. However, any subsequent advances in 2003 for federal estimated taxes will normally be made by direct deposit.

56. All advances for New York state/city estimated taxes will be made by cheque payable to the tax authority. These state/city cheques must be sent promptly with the proper form to the appropriate tax authority. These cheques made payable to the tax authority must never, under any circumstances, be deposited into a personal bank account.

57. Any advances for Washington, D.C., Virginia or Maryland state/city estimated taxes will be made by cheques made payable to the staff member. The staff member should either endorse the cheque and send it promptly with the proper form to the appropriate state/local tax authority or deposit the cheque in his/her personal account and issue a cheque to pay for the estimated tax, whichever is appropriate. The United Nations does not issue advances for estimated taxes for states other than New York, Washington, D.C., Virginia and Maryland, but will reimburse any late/underpayment-of-estimated-taxes penalties and related interest that may be levied by other state tax authorities as a consequence.

58. Staff members payrolled at Headquarters whose tax advance payments for estimated federal taxes in 2002 were made by direct deposit to IRS will be notified of the amount of the direct deposit on the 2002 statement of taxable earnings.

59. Staff members whose tax advance payments for the United Nations share of their estimated federal taxes are made by direct deposit with IRS will, in many cases, still have to make additional estimated tax payments directly to IRS each quarter, using IRS form 1040-ES payment vouchers. Staff members who are United States citizens are required to pay Social Security contributions on their United Nations earnings. They will therefore need to make estimated federal tax payments for their own share of Social Security (self-employment) taxes due and may be penalized for underpayment of estimated taxes if they do not. All staff members with taxable income from sources other than the United Nations may need to make additional estimated federal tax payments each quarter as well.

IV. Social Security contributions (self-employment taxes)

60. It is mandatory that all United States citizens report any self-employment income and pay the appropriate self-employment tax. United States citizens (but not resident aliens (“green card” holders) who have signed the Waiver) who are serving in the United States have Social Security coverage while employed by the United Nations. United States citizens serving abroad do not, except as indicated in paragraphs 87 and 88 below, have Social Security coverage; they are not subject to self-employment tax, nor can they obtain Social Security coverage by voluntary payments.

61. United States citizens working for the United Nations and serving in the United States are taxed on United Nations earnings for Social Security contribution purpose as if they were self-employed. Their Social Security contribution on the gross amount of United Nations taxable income for 2002 must be calculated using IRS schedule SE (self-employment tax). This does not imply, however, that United Nations emoluments should be reported on IRS schedule C (see para. 33 above).

62. The General Assembly has approved payment of the difference between the total amount of self-employment (Social Security) tax United States citizens are required to pay as United Nations staff and the amount they would have to pay themselves as employees of a taxable employer in the United States. The United Nations will normally reimburse one half of the self-employment tax due on the United Nations taxable earnings as calculated on IRS schedule SE.

63. United States citizens employed by the United Nations in the United States must complete schedule SE to report their self-employment tax on their United Nations income. The self-employment tax is claimed as an adjustment to income on the staff member's federal return and on some state returns. The amount of the adjustment to income is one half of the total self-employment tax reported on schedule SE. This adjustment to income must be reported on line 27 of IRS form 1040 and, if applicable, on line 17 of New York State form IT-201 or IT-203.

64. An individual's total estimated tax is defined as the sum of his or her estimated income tax and estimated self-employment tax. This means that a United States citizen employed by the United Nations in the United States is required to pay his or her self-employment tax on a quarterly basis. The payment of any balance of the self-employment tax in respect of the year 2002 will be due on or before 15 April 2003, together with the federal income tax return.

65. Completing form F.65 (Request for Settlement of Income Taxes) and attaching a completed copy of IRS schedule SE with the submitted tax return makes application for reimbursement of the United Nations portion of Social Security contributions (self-employment tax) owed. The amount due from the United Nations in respect of Social Security contributions (self-employment tax) is automatically included in the quarterly advances issued by the United Nations for payment of estimated United States federal income tax. The amount of self-employment tax included in the quarterly advances will be specifically indicated on the transmittal statement. Quarterly payments by staff members for their own share of self-employment taxes should normally equal the amounts paid by the United Nations. Normally advances of estimated taxes for the current tax year, including the United Nations share of Social Security contributions, are based on the amount of the final reimbursement paid for the immediately preceding tax year. United States citizens who joined the United Nations during the immediately preceding tax year or served outside the United States must inform the Payroll Section, New York, so that any adjustments to the Organization's share of Social Security contributions can be made in respect of the current tax year.

V. Special provisions and procedures applicable to staff members assigned to a United Nations office outside the United States during 2001 or 2002 or 2003

A. General comments

66. The United States tax regulations for taxpayers who are or have been outside the United States recently for long periods of time are complicated; United Nations tax reimbursement procedures necessarily reflect that complexity. Staff members with questions about these procedures, particularly those currently stationed outside the United States, should not hesitate to seek assistance from their professional tax preparers and if necessary from the Payroll Section by letter, telephone ((212) 963-2949), fax ((212) 963-1544), Lotus Notes Mail (Tax, Unit) or Internet (tax@un.org).

67. Staff members who are stationed outside the United States on or after 1 February 2003 are expected to meet the deadlines and requirements discussed in the following paragraphs. To the maximum extent possible, the deadlines and other requirements have been designed to allow such staff members additional time to comply with them. Staff members who are unable for any reason to comply with the filing deadlines or other requirements must notify the Payroll Section promptly and provide a written explanation of the circumstances.

B. Filing deadlines

68. In the case of United States citizens or residents who, on 15 April 2003, are living outside the United States and whose post of duty is outside the United States, the IRS grants such taxpayers an automatic two-month extension to 16 June 2003 for the filing of income tax returns for 2002. This extension to file is granted automatically, but a written statement certifying that the staff member is outside the United States must be attached to the return. Interest and late-payment penalties are charged on any tax payments owed and received after 15 April 2003. Please note that state tax authorities do not normally grant an automatic extension of time to file for overseas taxpayers. Staff members applying for an extension to file 2002 federal income tax returns must apply separately for extensions to file any required state returns.

69. The United Nations takes this automatic filing extension into consideration by granting those staff members serving outside the United States on or after 1 February 2003 an additional month to submit their request for settlement. These staff members should submit a claim for tax reimbursement as soon as possible, but not later than 1 April 2003. The United Nations will pay any late payment and/or underpayment interest and penalties that may have accrued as a result of this extension either to the date of payment of any unpaid taxes on United Nations income or to 16 June 2003, whichever is earlier. The United Nations will not pay any late filing penalties under any circumstances.

C. Foreign earned income and housing cost exclusions

70. In certain circumstances, the federal government and many states allow some or all income earned outside the United States to be excluded from total income before it is taxed. A staff member meeting either the physical presence test or the bona fide residence test as follows must elect to exclude in one or more taxable years foreign earned income attributable to the period of residence outside the United States:

(a) To qualify for this foreign earned income exclusion under the physical presence test, a staff member must be physically outside the United States for at least 330 full days during any period of 365 consecutive days. A full day is defined as the 24-hour period that starts at midnight. The 330 full days may be interrupted by periods in the United States.

(b) In order to qualify for this foreign earned income exclusion under the bona fide residence test, the staff member must be either a United States citizen or a United States resident alien who is a national of a country with which the United States has an income tax treaty in effect, and be a bona fide resident of a foreign country, or countries, for an uninterrupted period that includes a complete tax year, 1 January through 31 December. The determination whether a staff member is a bona fide resident of a foreign country involves his or her intention with regard to the length and nature of the stay. Generally, if a staff member goes to a foreign country for a definite, temporary purpose and returns to the United States after it is accomplished, he or she is not a bona fide resident of that country. If accomplishing the purpose requires an extended, indefinite stay, and a staff member makes his or her home in the foreign country, he or she may qualify as a bona fide resident.

71. Most staff members on mission who qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion do so under the physical presence test because they have been on assignment for the United Nations outside the United States for 330 days during any consecutive 365-day period. Some staff members who have not yet been outside the United States long enough by early 2003 to qualify for the exclusion are likely to qualify later in 2003 when their assignment has carried on for a year or so. The specific 365-day consecutive period during which a staff member is outside the United States for at least 330 full days is the qualifying period for the foreign earned income exclusion. Very often the qualifying period will cut across two calendar years and will therefore affect the staff member's tax returns for both years.

72. Staff members who have completed an assignment of more than 330 days outside the United States or who are likely to do so by the end of 2003 should contact their tax preparers and, if necessary, the Payroll Section to find out whether they qualify or will qualify to claim the foreign earned income exclusion. Staff members who have been on mission or assignment outside the United States during 2001, 2002 or 2003 must complete form F.65/A as a supplement to form F.65 (Request for Settlement of Income Taxes) in order to help the Payroll Section in determining whether or not the staff members have qualified or are likely to qualify for the exclusion.

73. The maximum amount of foreign income which can be excluded is $80,000 per person for tax year 2002. In most cases the amount of the maximum foreign earned income exclusion for a particular tax year is reduced in proportion to the number of days in a staff member's qualifying period that fall outside that tax year.

74. Some staff members who qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion will also qualify for excluding and/or deducting an additional amount based upon foreign housing costs. Staff members who are eligible (see IRS form 2555 instructions for further details) must take the full housing cost exclusions and/or deductions permissible. These housing expenses include rent, utilities (other than telephone charges), real and personal property insurance, non-refundable fees paid to obtain a lease, rental of furniture and accessories, residential parking and household repairs.

75. If a staff member qualifies for federal income tax purposes for the foreign earned income exclusion for United Nations income earned outside the United States, such income can and must also be excluded from New York State, Connecticut, New York City and Yonkers income, if applicable. There is no foreign earned income exclusion allowed, however, as a reduction to New Jersey or Pennsylvania income.

76. In calculating a staff member's tax reimbursement with respect to United Nations income, any foreign earned income exclusion available and any housing costs exclusion will be applied against the staff member's United Nations earnings to the extent that these deductions resulted from the period of his or her service with the Organization.

D. Filing procedures for staff members who have qualified for or are likely to qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion for 2002

77. Staff members who by 15 April 2003 already qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion for all or part of 2002 because the end of their qualifying period has already been reached must claim the exclusion for 2002 by completing IRS form 2555, "Foreign Earned Income", and including it with their completed federal tax return. All federal tax returns which include IRS form 2555 (including amended returns) must be sent to the Internal Revenue Service Center, Philadelphia, PA 19255, no matter what IRS filing centre is normally used.

78. Staff members on mission or assignment outside the United States since 2002 who have not yet qualified for the foreign earned income exclusion but who think it is likely that they will be outside the United States for 330 days during a qualifying period that will end between 15 April and 30 September 2003 must take advantage of the IRS provision that allows them to postpone filing their 2002 tax returns until such time as they expect to qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion for some portion of 2002.

79. Staff members postponing their tax filing for 2002 for the above-mentioned reason who anticipate that they will not qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion by 16 June 2003 (the extended filing date automatically granted by IRS to taxpayers physically out of the United States on 15 April) should file IRS form 4868, "Application for extension of time to file U.S. Individual Income Tax Return". This form should be sent to the Internal Revenue Service Center, Philadelphia, PA 19255 no later than 15 April 2003. Staff members must also notify the Payroll Section that they have postponed filing with IRS and accordingly will not be able to meet the Payroll Section's 1 April 2003 deadline for submission of settlement claims for 2002 and will, thereby, be exempt from the provisions of paragraph 39 of the present circular.

80. Staff members who qualified for the foreign earned income exclusion for 2002 may in some cases have received tax advances for 2002 substantially in excess of the United Nations share of their total tax liabilities. Staff members in this situation should refer to paragraphs 46 to 48 above on overpayment of tax advances.

E. Requirements for amended tax returns in certain circumstances

81. Staff members on mission or assignment outside the United States in 2002 who have not yet qualified for the foreign earned income exclusion for 2002 and who do not expect to qualify by 30 September 2003 must submit their settlement claim for 2002 to the Payroll Section by the regular deadline of 1 April 2003 and file their 2002 returns on time with the tax authorities. Should they subsequently qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion with a qualifying period that includes any portion of 2002, an amended return or returns for 2002 must be filed with the tax authorities within 90 days of the end of the qualifying period.

82. Similarly, staff members who were on a mission or an assignment outside the United States which qualified them for the foreign earned income exclusion with a qualifying period that included part or all of 2001 or any prior tax year and who have not already claimed the exclusion on that year's income tax return(s) must file an amended return or returns with the applicable tax authorities within 90 days of the end of the qualifying period.

83. A copy of any amended return(s) to claim the foreign earned income exclusion must be submitted to the Payroll Section at the time of the filing with the tax authorities. Since the foreign earned income exclusion on returns amended for this reason relates to United Nations income for which the United Nations has already provided tax reimbursement, most or all of the refund received will be due to the United Nations. Upon receipt of the refund cheque, staff members must within 30 days bring or send it to the Payroll Section for settlement of the balance due to the United Nations.

84. If the Payroll Section determines that a staff member has qualified for the foreign earned income exclusion for a past year which would require the staff member to file an amended return for that year, a notification will be sent to the staff member informing him or her of the need to file the amended return(s). If, after 90 days following the date of the notification, the staff member has not submitted a copy of the properly amended return as filed with the tax authorities, the amount of tax reimbursement made by the United Nations for that year may be recovered from the staff member's salary starting the next month.

F. Tax advances for staff members on mission or assignment outside the United States

85. Tax advances for 2003 for staff members who have qualified or are likely to qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion in 2003 will be issued solely on the basis of any estimated United Nations income in excess of the expected exclusion. If for any reason the staff member does not later qualify for the exclusion, the United Nations will, in addition to reimbursing the tax actually due, pay any penalties due as a result of the underpayment of the United Nations share of estimated taxes due.

86. Staff members who are newly assigned in 2003 to missions or offices outside the United States for a period of six months or longer must notify the Payroll Section of their assignment prior to their departure. No further tax advances will be issued to staff members who begin an assignment of six months or longer outside the United States prior to 15 August 2003. Staff members who return from assignment outside the United States in 2002 or 2003 should notify the Payroll Section in order to determine if the issuance of quarterly estimated tax cheques needs to be reinstated or the amount increased.

G. Special provisions governing Social Security

87. United States citizens serving abroad (whether or not they qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion) do not have Social Security coverage and generally pay no self-employment taxes. However, to the extent that they spend time on official duty in the United States, their earnings for each such period are subject to the self-employment tax, which will be partially reimbursed by the United Nations in accordance with paragraphs 61 to 64 above.

88. The earnings subject to self-employment tax for each such period should be calculated by multiplying the number of working days spent in the United States (including the days of arrival and departure) by the daily rate of remuneration (calculated as a fraction of the then prevailing monthly rate), consisting of gross base salary, post adjustment and any salary allowances paid during the applicable period. The minimum amount of income that must be reported for self-employment/Social Security purposes in any year is $400.

VI. Special provisions relating to staff members who have already separated from the United Nations or who are expected to separate from the United Nations in 2003

89. When a staff member leaves the Organization for any reason, he or she is still required to follow the procedures for requesting tax reimbursement for the last year in which he or she received compensation from the United Nations. Staff members who separated or received final payment during 2002 are required to file the application forms with copies of their 2002 returns by the normal 2003 deadlines.

90. Staff members payrolled outside Headquarters must inform the Payroll Section in New York of the date of their separation from the Organization in advance.

91. When a staff member who has received tax advances leaves the Organization before the end of a year, the Payroll Section estimates the amount of reimbursement for taxes owed to the staff member for the partial year worked and compares it to the amount of advances already received. If the amount of the advances already received exceeds the estimated reimbursements owed, the difference is subtracted from the staff member's final payment. Staff members who plan to leave the Organization and who wish to avoid such a deduction from their final payment should consult the Payroll Section as soon as possible to reduce the amount of the tax advances they would otherwise receive.

92. United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund payments to retired or separated staff members may include full or partial lump-sum distributions, which include the staff member's own contributions to the Pension Fund, and may include the Organization's contributions and the interest earned. The Organization's contributions and the interest earned are taxable income to the staff member when received by the staff member.

93. The taxes on these Pension Fund payments may or may not be reimbursed by the United Nations, depending on the staff member's period of service. Retired staff members who joined the Organization prior to 1 January 1980 are entitled to reimbursement for income taxes paid on partial or full lump-sum pension payments and withdrawal settlements received. Staff members who receive lump-sum payments should make sure to include the taxable amount as part of the taxable income on their returns in the year the lump-sum payment is received. The United Nations will not reimburse any future taxes payable on such distributions if the income tax liability for these amounts is deferred to future years because the staff member has "rolled over" the payments into another qualifying pension plan or an individual retirement account (IRA). Staff members should not use IRS form 4972 to calculate the amount of tax on a partial lump-sum pension payment. Any claim for reimbursement of income taxes where the tax on a partial lump-sum payment is calculated on IRS form 4972 will be returned to the staff member for correction.

94. The General Assembly, in its resolution 34/165 of 17 December 1979, decided that staff members who joined the United Nations after 31 December 1979 would not be entitled to reimbursement for income taxes paid on partial or full lump-sum payments and withdrawal settlements received. Such staff members, who do not qualify for reimbursement, may wish to “roll over” lump-sum pension payments within 60 days of receipt into another qualifying pension fund or into an IRA so that taxes on the payments are deferred until distributions are received in later years.

95. Separated staff members who are members of the Pension Fund receive a letter from the secretariat of the Pension Fund which provides the details of their contributions and United Nations payments. Staff members must submit a copy of this letter to the Payroll Section at Headquarters and to the finance office issuing their statement of taxable earnings by 31 December, so that the taxable portion of their distributions can be determined and incorporated into their statement of taxable earnings. Staff members who have become permanent residents of the United States after having joined the United Nations must also provide a copy of the Personnel Action form (PA) showing the date they signed the Waiver of Rights, Privileges, Exemptions and Immunities. It is the personal responsibility of separating staff members to inform the appropriate offices of any pension-related information that may be relevant to the preparation of their statements of taxable earnings. Partial or full lump-sum payments and withdrawal settlements pertaining to the period of service prior to signing the Waiver are not taxable and will not be included in the taxable portion of pension lump-sum payments. If the statement of taxable earnings does not include the taxable portion of any lump-sum payment or withdrawal settlement received, a staff member is nonetheless required to include the correct amount in his or her taxable income reported to the tax authorities. Requests for reimbursement for taxes will not be processed for separated staff members if the Payroll Section has not previously received a copy of the separation benefits letter from the secretariat of the Pension Fund.

96. Staff members who have separated from the United Nations will receive no further tax advances. Taxable lump-sum payments or withdrawal settlements will often require additional estimated tax payments to be made to avoid penalties. The United Nations will not issue additional advances for such separation distributions but will be prepared to reimburse any late payment and/or underpayment penalty and interest incurred by staff members related to the reimbursable portion of the United Nations payments.

CONSENT FOR THE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE TO DISCLOSE TAX RETURN INFORMATION TO THE UNITED NATIONS

Information contained in United States federal income tax returns is confidential and, except as authorized by the Internal Revenue Code, may not be disclosed to any person. Taxpayers may authorize the Internal Revenue Service to release this confidential tax return information to persons otherwise not entitled to receive such information.

The purpose of this consent is to authorize the Internal Revenue Service to disclose certain confidential tax information to the United Nations to assist the United Nations in verifying the United States income taxes you paid on your earnings from the United Nations. The United Nations will use this information in connection with its programme of reimbursing income taxes paid on United Nations emoluments, pursuant to staff regulation 3.3(f). The Internal Revenue Service has no involvement in such verification aside from processing any consents received from taxpayers and disclosing information in accordance with the terms of such consents. The United Nations will pay the fees incurred in processing the present consent.

You may revoke the present consent by writing to the Internal Revenue Service at:

The most frequently asked questions on income taxes in the United Nations

The answers to the following most frequently asked questions are explained in detail in the tax information circular (ST/IC/2003/9). Please read it and be sure that anybody who assists you in the preparation of your tax returns reads it also. In the answers to the questions below, reference is made to some specific paragraphs of the information circular on payment of 2002 income taxes. Please note that this is not an exhaustive list, and therefore should not be used in lieu of the information circular.

1. What is the main purpose of the United Nations tax reimbursement system?

The United States does not exempt the United Nations earnings of its taxpayers from taxes. In the interest of equity, the General Assembly established a system to reimburse income taxes to those United Nations staff members who are required to pay taxes in respect of salaries or other emoluments they receive from the United Nations. The purpose of the reimbursement system is to place United Nations staff members subject to taxation in the position they would have been if their official emoluments were not taxed. Hence, it is intended neither to provide a benefit, nor to place the staff member at a disadvantage, in relation to other United Nations staff members who are not required to pay taxes to a Member State on their United Nations emoluments (ST/IC/2003/9, paras. 3-4).

2. What is staff assessment and how is it related to income taxes?

Staff assessment is not a withholding tax. It is an amount deducted from all United Nations staff members' gross pay according to the United Nations Staff Regulations and Rules, regardless of their nationality. This amount is credited to the Tax Equalization Fund. Those Member States that do not impose income tax on the United Nations earnings receive a portion of the Tax Equalization Fund as an offset against their assessments for the United Nations regular budget, peacekeeping and tribunal budgets. When staff members have to pay national income taxes on their United Nations earnings, they are reimbursed from the Tax Equalization Fund irrespective of the total amount of staff assessment deducted from their salaries. Staff assessment cannot be claimed as a deduction on United States income tax returns. As staff assessment is not a withholding tax, it cannot be reimbursed to staff members under any circumstances.

3. Who is subject to United States income taxation on United Nations earnings?

United States citizens and permanent residents who have signed the Waiver of Rights, Privileges, Exemptions and Immunities (the Waiver) are subject to United States income tax on their United Nations earnings (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 1). In addition, United States citizens serving in the United States are also subject to self-employment tax on their United Nations earnings. The United Nations reimburses those staff members who have to pay the United States income taxes due on their United Nations earnings as well as one half of the related self-employment taxes payable by United States citizens.

4. Who has to pay self-employment tax and what is a staff member's share?

Based on United States law, it is mandatory that all United States citizens serving in the United States pay self-employment tax on their United Nations earnings. United States citizens serving abroad who spend time on official duty in the United States are also subject to self-employment tax on the earnings for the period worked in the United States. The United Nations will normally reimburse one half of the self-employment tax due on the United Nations taxable earnings as calculated on IRS schedule SE; a United States staff member has to pay the other half (ST/IC/2003/9, paras. 60-65).

5. How does a staff member request income tax advances and/or reimbursement cheques from the United Nations?

To request income tax advances, a staff member subject to income taxation should complete United Nations form F.65 and submit it together with a copy of his/her personnel action to the Income Tax Unit, room FF-300 (ST/IC/2003/9, paras. 5b-8). United States permanent residents should also provide the Personnel Actions form (PA) reflecting the date when they signed the Waiver. To request tax reimbursement, a staff member must submit a photocopy of his/her complete set of income tax returns together with properly completed forms F.65, F.65/A (if applicable) and F.243 to the Income Tax Unit. Staff members who have received tax advances must submit a request for tax reimbursement for each year within the deadline for submission. There is a one-year limitation on retroactivity of filing a claim for tax reimbursement (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 21).

6. What are the deadlines for submitting requests for income tax reimbursements to United Nations and filing with United States tax authorities?

The deadlines for submission of requests for income tax reimbursement to the United Nations are 3 March 2003 for staff serving in the United States and 1 April 2003 for staff serving elsewhere. The Income Tax Unit must receive the requests by these deadlines to allow processing and reimbursement before the actual filing deadline with the tax authorities (ST/IC/2003/9, paras. 37-39). The deadlines for filing income tax returns with the tax authorities are 15 April 2003 for taxpayers in the United States and 15 June 2003 for overseas taxpayers. Requests for income tax reimbursement submitted after the submission deadlines are handled on a first-come, first-served basis. It should be noted that there is a one-year limitation on filing a claim for tax reimbursement (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 21).

7. How does the United Nations calculate income tax reimbursements due to staff members?

Based on the income tax returns submitted by a staff member, the United Nations Income Tax Unit will calculate the following two amounts: (a) the actual total tax payable for the year as shown in the copies of the tax return with the United Nations income (as shown on his/her statement of taxable earnings) included; and (b) the tax that would be payable if United Nations income were excluded from total income. Both calculations use the actual total deductions and the actual exemptions claimed by the staff member on his/her tax returns to arrive at the taxable income. Effective with the 2002 tax reimbursement, the limitation of deductions or the deduction for exemptions that may result from including United Nations earnings in adjusted gross income is taken into consideration for the calculation of reimbursement of regular income tax or alternative minimum tax (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 27). The difference between the two calculations is the tax attributable to United Nations income and will be reimbursed by the United Nations. To illustrate, assume that a staff member and his/her spouse working outside the United Nations filed as married filing jointly for 2002, had the following federal taxable income and were not subject to Social Security tax:

(i) Actual total tax payable on return
United Nations earnings		$73,000
Non-United Nations ordinary income		40,000
Less: Deductions		(15,000)
Less: Exemptions		(6,000)
Taxable income		$92,000
Federal Tax		$18,643 (A)
(ii) Tax payable without United Nations income
Non-United Nations ordinary income		40,000
Less: Deductions		(15,000)
Less: Exemptions		(6,000)
Taxable income		$19,000
Federal Tax		$2,254 (B)
United Nations federal income tax reimbursement =	(A) – (B)
	=	$18,643 – $2,254
	=	$16,389

8. What are estimated tax cheques used for?

The United Nations does not have a tax withholding system. Staff members who are liable to pay federal, state or municipal income taxes for 2003 are required to file, by 15 April 2003, a declaration of estimated tax on their estimated 2003 income, including salary and emoluments to be received from the United Nations. In order to avoid the penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes for 2003, staff members, in most circumstances, will be required to pay in four equal instalments as estimates of their 2003 federal tax the lesser of: (a) 100 per cent of their actual 2002 tax liability (including the self-employment tax); or (b) 90 per cent of their estimated 2003 tax liability (including the self-employment tax), due on 15 April 2003, 16 June 2003, 15 September 2003 and 15 January 2004.

For most staff members subject to paying taxes to the United States, federal tax advances are paid directly to IRS by the United Nations for credit to the taxpayer's individual account as estimated payments. Those staff members who have not filed their requests for 2002 tax reimbursement and 2003 advances with the Income Tax Unit by the prescribed filing deadline of 3 March 2003, will receive their first advance for estimated federal taxes for 2003 by cheque rather than direct payment. However, any subsequent advances in 2003 for federal estimated taxes will normally be made by the United Nations to IRS by direct payments. All advances for New York State/City estimated taxes are at present made by cheques payable to New York State Income Tax. These cheques MUST be sent promptly to New York State with staff members' appropriate estimated payment vouchers. The United Nations is currently negotiating with the New York State Department of Finance and Taxation an agreement to pay estimated income tax advances directly to New York State for the staff members' individual tax accounts.

Any advance for Washington, D.C., Virginia or Maryland state estimated taxes will be made by cheque payable to staff members, who should either endorse the cheques and send them promptly to the appropriate state tax authority or deposit the cheques in their personal bank accounts and issue their own cheques to pay for the estimated tax.

It is the responsibility of staff members to include on their estimated tax forms their share of self-employment tax, if applicable, and estimates of additional taxable income from sources other than the United Nations and to pay the estimated tax due thereon.

9. What should a staff member do with United Nations tax cheques payable to the tax authorities?

There are only two purposes for which the United Nations issues tax cheques payable to the tax authorities for a staff member:

- (a) For the balances due shown on a staff member's income tax returns, or
- (b) For a staff member's estimated income tax advances.

A staff member should forward any United Nations tax cheques made payable to the respective tax authorities to the appropriate addresses of the tax authorities. A staff member should not, under any circumstances, cash or deposit any United Nations tax cheques payable to the tax authority into his/her bank account. If a staff member pays the balance due or estimated tax advances before receiving United Nations tax cheques, he/she should return to the Income Tax Unit the United Nations cheques payable to the tax authorities, together with proof that he/she paid the tax authorities (such as copies of his/her cancelled personal cheques). The Tax Unit will then reissue the United Nations tax cheques to his/her name. At times tax reimbursement cheques made directly payable to a staff member may also be issued when the amount that a staff member paid to IRS is larger than the total tax due on his/her outside income. Only tax cheques issued with the staff member's name as the sole payee may be cashed or deposited to his/her bank account.

10. Who gets the tax refund that a staff member receives from the tax authorities?

Entitlement to tax refunds is dependent upon who overpays the tax authorities. A staff member may retain the tax refund that he/she receives from the tax authorities if he/she has more withholding tax on his/her non-United Nations income than his/her tax liabilities or if he/she overpays the tax authorities on the non-United Nations earnings. If the United Nations overpays the estimated income tax advances related to a staff member, the overpayment amount will be indicated on a transmittal statement to the staff member after the staff member's income tax reimbursement claim is settled. The United Nations treats these overpayments as pre-payments of tax advances for the subsequent year. Staff members who continue to be subject to United States income taxes on the United Nations earnings should indicate on their tax returns that tax overpayment should be applied to the following year's estimated taxes. Separated staff members should return the United Nations portion of tax refunds to the Organization.

11. Who pays the penalties and interest imposed by tax authorities?

As the responsibility for filing complete, correct and timely tax returns is that of the individual taxpayers, the United Nations will not reimburse staff members for penalties and/or interest imposed by tax authorities on their United Nations earnings except if: (a) the delays are attributable to the Organization; or (b) penalties or interest are the result of written instructions given by the United Nations. Under certain conditions, staff members serving outside the United States may also be reimbursed for penalties and interest (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 69). The United Nations will not pay any late filing penalties under any circumstances. Staff members are, therefore, advised to file the appropriate extension forms with tax authorities before the deadline for filing is due.

12. What action is taken by the United Nations Income Tax Unit if a staff member makes an error in his/her tax returns?

If the Income Tax Unit, in the course of processing a staff member's request for reimbursements, determines that there is an error, it will issue to the staff member a written notice of corrections to be made to the tax return(s) by the staff member. Staff members are required to acknowledge and certify that they have made the appropriate changes on their tax returns submitted to the tax authorities, and to return the certified correction notification, together with a copy of the corrected tax forms, to the Income Tax Unit. Staff members should not, however, rely on the Income Tax Unit to detect errors. They remain fully responsible for filing correct returns with the tax authorities.

It should be noted that by completing United Nations form F.243 (Consent for the Internal Revenue Service to disclose tax return information and estimated tax payments to the United Nations), a staff member authorizes IRS to disclose to the United Nations tax information and estimated tax payments regarding his/her federal income tax account(s) for the particular tax years if and when the United Nations requests this information. The tax information is used only to ascertain that the staff member who submits photocopies of his/her income tax returns to the United Nations Income Tax Unit also files the same income tax returns with IRS. It does not imply that the staff member's federal income tax returns are completely correct and accepted by IRS. Nor does it imply that the United Nations is obligated to verify the validity of each claim submitted to the Tax Unit with the tax authorities.

13. Under what circumstances can a married staff member file separately?

Generally, if a married staff member is not receiving a dependency allowance for his/her spouse, he or she can elect to file separately. However, if a staff member files separately while receiving a dependency allowance for his/her spouse, the United Nations final reimbursement of income taxes will be calculated as if he/she is filing a joint return with the spouse (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 13).

14. Does a staff member have to claim dependants for whom he or she receives dependency allowances from the United Nations?

A staff member who has received United Nations dependency allowances for his/her children or relatives residing in the United States is required to claim the appropriate exemptions for the dependants, or provide acceptable written explanation as to the reason for not doing so (ST/IC/2003/9, para. 15).

15. Should a staff member submit a copy of his/her income tax return to the United Nations Income Tax Unit if he or she is stationed abroad and does not have any federal tax due in respect of United Nations earnings?

It is advisable for the staff member to submit a photocopy of his/her income tax return to the Income Tax Unit, regardless of whether he/she fully qualifies under the foreign earned income exclusion and may not have any tax liabilities. It provides a continuous record for his/her tax file and in instances of subsequent amendments, he/she can submit an amended return to the Tax Unit for reimbursement.
